

Recent changes in the Polish labour market stimulated the dynamic growth of the recruitment sector, which caused an increased demand for qualified recruitment consultants.

As an answer to these needs, we have created rec2rec, a recruitment agency specialising in recruitment services for recruitment and staffing agencies - recruitment to recruitment.

Recruitment businesses who outsource the recruitment of their own personnel to specialised agencies, achieve a number of benefits, amongst others:

- Access to a unique recruitment sector database of candidates.
- Acquiring qualified personnel without disclosure of own business plans to other recruitment companies.
- Higher candidates' confidence dealing with independent consultants who act from a neutral position and without risks of conflict of interest.
- Avoidance of uncomfortable situations which may occur when contacting the competitors directly.

Our advantages include: good knowledge of the HR sector, international experience and a modern approach to recruitment.

We guarantee confidentiality and a high standard of professional ethics. Our recruitment procedures enable us to provide the highest quality service.

We are the recruiters' recruiter.

 rec2rec is a part of  jobland.pl

There are numerous reasons why recruitment businesses need external recruitment services. Usually the reasons are the same as why companies having their own HR departments use external recruitment agencies.

When recruiting for yourself, it is often difficult to eliminate baggage resulting from your insider company knowledge and professional routine.

The external agency provides a different, unbiased view and this multilateral approach increases the candidates' confidence.

By outsourcing of the recruitment to a third party, agencies can avoid potential embarrassment which can happen when headhunting candidates from your direct competitors, people who you meet on job fairs and conferences...

In the United Kingdom, where the recruitment sector is probably the most developed in Europe and valued £25 billion, only in REC confederation there are almost 250 agencies specialising in recruitment to recruitment.

Finally, it is also worth to remember the old Polish proverb about the shoemaker who walks with no shoes...

We look forward to hearing from you soon!
